

TWO DAYS FOR TAFT

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.—Secretary William H. Taft will not be satisfied with less than time enough to show the members of his party both the scenic and industrial features of Hawaii. A program was discussed between the Secretary and Secretary E. M. Boyd of the Hawaii Promotion Committee today and, after a conference, Secretary Taft expressed his desire that any arrangement made for the entertainment of the party bound for the Philippines should include a drive to the Pail, an excursion to a sugar plantation and a visit to Pearl Harbor.

Secretary Taft has on many occasions shown his interest in Hawaii. It may not be known, although I have intimated as much before, that the interest of the Secretary had much to do with the appropriation for harbor improvements. It is his desire now, since so many Senators and Representatives have indicated their wish to see the Philippines, that this occasion be made the opportunity for the islands and it is safe to say that nothing will be left undone by the Secretary which might redound in any way to the future advantage of Hawaii.

Much depends, of course, upon the disposition of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company as to the July trip of the Manchuria. If time enough is given it is certain that Honolulu will be thoroughly looked over, its harbor inspected, the surroundings enjoyed, and its necessities weighed by the official visitors. The story, perhaps, is best told as Mr. Boyd put it to me, following his interview with Secretary Taft, who is now Secretary of War, acting Secretary of State, and de facto President of the United States.

"Secretary Taft," has shown the greatest interest in Hawaii," said Mr. Boyd this afternoon. "He began his comment by saying that he wanted to show the members of his party the 'jumping off place,' which, of course, meant Nuanu Pali. As to what he really wants to see, I gather that an excursion to Pearl Harbor with an inspection of the sugar mill alone will satisfy him. Secretary Taft knows Hawaii by reason of several visits, and my interview with him today was to secure from him an expression as to what he wants we should show his friends. In the absence of Chairman Hedemann of the joint committee, I took up with Secretary Taft all of the many points of interest and of industrial importance. While no program has been or can be arranged finally, presuming that the Manchuria will arrive early in the morning, Secretary Taft has intimated that he would enjoy his stop best if something like the following could be arranged: First, a drive to the Pail. After luncheon, a trip to one of the sugar plantations. The second day a trip to Pearl Harbor. This is framed on the presumption that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company will arrange the time of the Manchuria so that the vessel will arrive in Honolulu early on the sixth day out of San Francisco and stay in port not less than thirty-six hours. Secretary Taft expressed the most urgent desire that every possible minute of time might be given in port that his party could see Honolulu and its surroundings, and intimated that the hours to be devoted to sightseeing would be stretched to the limit in the interest of Hawaii. General Passenger Agent Kerell of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company said to me in San Francisco that the company would try its best to give Hawaii every consideration and I am hopeful that he will order a stop of not less than two days."

"The Secretary was especially pleased with the suggestion that it was the desire of the people of Hawaii to meet himself and the members of his party, and said that they would gladly take part in any public reception arranged for them. When the subject of a reception was broached, the Secretary said: 'On the steamship?' and when informed that the vessel, following the custom, would lie outside the harbor, laughingly commented: 'Ah, another object lesson.'"

I am informed that Secretary Taft will personally make known to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company his desire to have as much time in Honolulu as possible, and that he authorized representations be made to the San Francisco office that he would be pleased with as considerable a stay as the ship could make and keep up her schedule. Secretary Taft now thinks that his party will include not less than sixty persons. According to one who has talked with him, there will be ten United States Senators, twenty-four members of the National House, and about twenty ladies. The excursion to Pearl Harbor assumes added interest in view of the fact that one of the leading members of the House of Representatives party will be Chairman Foss of the Committee on Naval Affairs. Among the men who will find many personal acquaintances will be Senator Warren of Wyoming, one of the leading members of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs.

HONOLULU HARBOR.

The improvement of Honolulu harbor waits upon the receipt here of the specifications for the work. As soon as these are received the War Department will advertise for bids and will place such a time limit as will insure speedy action. Nothing is known here as to how far along Col. Heuer at San Francisco has progressed with this matter, but Gen. McKenzie is hopeful that the project has been practically outlined and that matters will be ready to offer before the summer is well along. It is safe to say that from the temper of the Engineer Department there will be no delay in the prosecution of this work, and I might as well add that Hawaii has never made a more sincere friend than the chief of the army engineers. Gen. McKenzie today referred in the warmest terms to his memories of Hawaii and said that he would be extremely pleased when he should know that the work on the harbor was well along. He expressed regret that the Congress had failed to appropriate all the money necessary for the completion of the purchase of sites for fortifications.

MR. BOYD'S MOVEMENTS.

Secretary E. M. Boyd, of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, reached the city this morning and spent the day at government and railroad offices. He leaves tomorrow, going East. Mr. Boyd said today that he had been fairly successful in his efforts to arouse greater interest in Hawaii among railroad men. All through the West the passenger department officials had indicated that they would gladly include wider notice of Hawaii in their printed matter and certainly here in the Capital the transportation officials are friendly. At the Southern railway headquarters, in the absence of the chief, it was said that there would be a substantial mention of the attractiveness of the islands in the summer publication. Mr. Boyd expects to stop in Baltimore and Philadelphia before reaching New York. He may be compelled to return here before starting home.

THE HAWAIIAN BAND.

Whether or not the Hawaiian band will appear at the Portland Exposition is a matter depending upon the dates which may be arranged. Certain it is that there is no hope to secure transportation on an army vessel during the month of August. As that month was the one fixed upon by the Portland people and towards which all negotiations have tended, the affair is at a standstill until the fair officials shall indicate whether or not a later date will not conflict with their existing arrangements. The last transport to carry a full quota of troops is that of August. That steamer will have on board a mixed lot. There will be a battalion of infantry, several companies of cavalry, and at least two regiments of engineers. Gen. Corbin is finding great difficulty in getting home the applicants as speedily as they wish and consequently there will be small chance for any Honolulu people to make the trip on a government ship until after the summer months. This crowded condition is true, also, of the outboard vessels. So much freight has been offered that the army has been compelled to secure a freighter which will go out loaded down and bring back coal for the Honolulu pile.

C. F. Lehnert, of Alaska, who has been in Honolulu for several winters as a local inspector of hulls, has been promoted as a member of the San Francisco board of steamboat inspection. It has been the custom of the Bureau here to send the Alaska board to Honolulu for work during the winter months. Mr. Lehnert has been inspector of hulls at Juneau, where Geo. H. Whitney has also been associated with him as inspector of boilers. When Lehnert returned from Honolulu not long ago he found his wife ill and decided to resign rather than go again to Alaska. Thereupon the bureau decided to appoint him Assistant Inspector of boilers at San Francisco. Mr. Whitney will be inspector of boilers in Alaska and Frank H. Newhall, of Astoria, has been appointed inspector of hulls for Alaska. Mr. Newhall will undoubtedly be sent to Honolulu next winter.

ERNEST G. WALKER.

Lieut. Slattery, naval station engineer, returned from Maui on Sunday morning.

The meeting to be held by the U. S. W. V. on Wednesday, May 17, is one of great importance and all members are expected to be present.

THE BRIGHT SIDE

of life. It is a feeling common to the majority of us that we do not get quite the amount of happiness we are entitled to. Among the countless things which tend to make us more or less miserable ill health takes first place. Hannah More said that sin was generally to be attributed to biliousness. No doubt a crippled liver with the resulting impure blood, is the cause of more mental gloom than any other single thing. And who can reckon up the fearful aggregate of pain, loss and fear arising from the many diseases which are familiar to mankind; like a vast cloud it hangs over a multitude no one can number. You can see these people everywhere. For them life can scarcely be said to have any "bright side" at all. Hence the eagerness with which they search for relief and cure. Remedies like WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION have not attained their high position in the confidence of the people by bald assertions and boasting advertisements. They are obliged to win it by doing actually what is claimed for them. That this remedy deserves its reputation is conceded. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Nothing has such a record of success in Scrofula, Influenza, Throat and Lung Troubles, and emaciating complaints and disorders that tend to undermine the foundations of strength and vigor. Its use helps to show life's brighter side. Professor Reddy, of Canada, says: "I have much pleasure in stating that I have used it in cases of debility and found it to be a very valuable remedy as well as pleasing to take." You cannot be disappointed in it. Sold by chemists,

SENATORS KNOCK OUT COUNTY ACT GRAFTERS

(From Saturday's Advertiser.)

The Senate got down to hard work yesterday, passing the salaries bill, with appropriations considerably cut down, on third reading, and the current expenses bill—also with appropriations reduced—on second reading. Everybody, in fact, was in economical humor. That is, everybody was in economical humor excepting John Lane of Oahu and Palmer Woods of Hawaii. Mr. Woods, as a Democrat, of course only counts for one; but besides being out of swing with his party, it was really ungenerous in Mr. Lane to attempt to force upon the special attorneys retained to assist in the defense of the County Act what would have amounted to a handsome retainer if the item that he suggested and that the ways and means committee had already cut out had gone through. This was the item appropriating $3000 for the purpose, introduced by Carlos Long in the House, and accepted by that body.

If Mr. Lane had taken second thought, perhaps he would have been a little more careful of the feelings of the attorneys. Mr. Cooper, chairman of the County Act Commission, as everybody knows has offered to defend the County Act without fee. And anybody who knows Mr. Cooper understands that his offer was made in perfect good faith. The other attorney has also offered to defend the County Act without fee—perhaps not so enthusiastically as Mr. Cooper, but certainly with a great show of earnestness. And it was unkind of Mr. Lane to thus publicly raise a doubt of the good faith of his friend. It was a stab in the back.

But, if Mr. Lane was out of touch with his party, the other Republican Senators were not at all inclined to force pay for services that had been offered gratuitously—and so the item was killed. And if Mr. Woods was looking for a chance to do politics, he did not find a shining one.

The House spent the day in discussing the Loan Bill, and did not get anywhere, much. The general appropriations were raised about $128,000 at the morning session. Then, when Maui was reached, it quickly overran its share something like $70,000. And upon the discovery of this, an attempt was made to get that island back to somewhere near its rightful place. Pending the decision of this the House adjourned.

THE SENATE.

The Senate got down to work in earnest yesterday, Senator Dowsett from the Ways and Means Committee presenting the reports on the two bills, salaries and current expenses, which had been referred to the committee to get the appropriations within the income of the Territory, if possible. And, as a result of the work of the committee, the salary bill passed third reading yesterday, and the current expense bill second reading. The salary bill now goes to the House, which has not had a whack at it at all, and the current expense appropriation bill will be read for the third time in the Senate today.

The reports on the bills showed that the Ways and Means Committee had been putting in some pretty hard work while the Senate had been waiting. The salary bill, the report upon which was presented first, shows that the allowance in the bill was cut by the committee from $1,468,312 to $1,396,880, and this was a cut from the Governor's estimate, which was $1,627,000. This was a cut of about $71,000, and it was made even greater when the bill came to be considered, the amounts as finally appropriated footing up 1,396,880.

The current expense bill was also roundly cut by the committee, the total appropriations in the bill falling from $1,487,595 to $1,387,117. This is a saving on this bill of $100,478, and this was increased rather than diminished when the bill came up for second reading, although nobody will know exactly what was saved until Clerk Savidge comes to make his footings.

GRAFTERS KNOCKED OUT.

Senator Dowsett read the reports himself, putting in that on the expense bill first. It was a sweeping document, incidentally cutting out the item inserted by the House at the instance of the grafters to pay $3000 for defending the County Act to attorneys who had agreed to do the work without fee from motives of good citizenship—that is, one of them agreed to do the work free from motives of good citizenship, and the other one said that he did. An effort was made by Senator John Lane of Oahu to have this item put back in the bill when it came to be considered on second reading, Senator Palmer Woods of Hawaii seconding the motion to insert, but this last attempt of the grafters received only the votes of Lane and Woods. The other Senators understood that the Territory cannot afford luxuries, and are good enough financiers in the public interest not to insist upon paying for what is offered them for nothing.

After he had read the report on the current expense bill, Dowsett read the report on the salaries bill. It was a very technical document, the changes being made line by line and by number in the printed bill, and so it was practically impossible to follow. The recommendation of the committee, however, was that the bill be passed as amended by the report, the measure being on third reading. The report was laid on the table to be considered with the bill. The bill itself, as the order of the day, came up at once, upon the conclusion of the reading of the report, for third reading. There was no dispute upon the report until it came to the cut in the commissions to be paid to Tax Collectors. This sum is fixed in the bill at $12,500, and the report of the committee cut it to $11,400. The recommendation was adopted, after some debate.

THE BILL PASSES.

On motion of Achi, the item of $125 a month for a superintendent of sewers was not adopted, there being a man already provided for in the Board of Health Department to look out for this work.

The salary of the High Sheriff was cut to $212.50 per month, and this was pretty close to the conclusion of the reading of the bill. Incidentally, it may be stated, that the bill deals rather more liberally with the schools than it was supposed that it would do. The salaries of some teachers are lowered and those of some others raised, but on the whole there are $20,000 more given to pay school teachers than in the old bill.

After the reading of the bill had been concluded, Paris moved a reconsideration of the vote striking out the item of $3000 for inspectors of sewers under the Board of Public Works. Reconsideration carried and the item was put back in the bill.

On motion of Woods, the item for the division of entomology in the Bureau of Forestry was cut from $10,000 to $5000.

Bishop moved that an item of $4800 be inserted for road supervisor of Oahu, and the motion to insert carried. This was intended to pay a man to take care of the engines and rollers and stock in the possession of the Superintendent of Public Works.

"But who will feed the mules?" asked President Isenberg. The bill, carrying total appropriations as amended of $1,396,080, then passed third reading, McCandless, who had come in late, voting "No," and explaining that he did not know what he was voting on.

Achi introduced a bill appropriating money to pay witness fees delinquent in the various court circuits. The bill appropriates $2000, and passed first reading. It will be read for the second time today.

The current expense bill, House Bill No. 4, was next in order on second reading, the report of the Ways and Means Committee being taken up with it. The reading went on for a time, quietly enough.

FIGHTS THE LAND COURTS.

The clerk did not read the item for the expenses of the Court of Land Registration, and Dickey wanted to know what had become of it.

"He will come to that, if you wait," said Senator Dowsett. "But, so far as I am concerned, I would like to see the item wiped out, and the court with it. The way that court is run, it is absolutely useless. A man with a good title will not go near it, and only a man with a shaky title will go there to get it confirmed. I know, and can prove, that the government gave P. C. Jones a title to land in Palama, when as a matter of fact there was a flaw in the title to that land, a mortgage upon it, which is a first lien, and the government is on its knees now to get that title cleared. P. C. Jones has the title, and the government had no title to give."

"They say they have no money to employ men learned enough in the law to get perfect titles. The judge of the court told me that."

Then the clerk read the item of $1,000 for the Court of Land Registration, and Dickey moved that it be raised to $5000. He spoke very highly of the land court, as did Achi, but the latter moved to amend by appropriating $3000. However, there was a distinct and visible hostility to the court and the motion failed.

Then Dickey moved to make the appropriation $2000, and McCandless made a long speech in favor of the motion. But this likewise failed.

Dickey tried again, moving that the item be inserted at $6000 for the land court, and lost again.

Then Dowsett moved that the item pass at $1500, which carried.

PASSES SECOND READING.

Hayeselden moved an amendment increasing the appropriation for the encouragement of lace making from $1500 to $3000. McCandless amended to make fifteen per cent of receipts from general sales of lace a government realization, as well as 50 per cent of receipts from sales of lace made at the reform schools.

Dowsett protested against the increase, saying the Territory could not afford it, and Hayeselden defended his amendment with an array of figures from the lace makers. The Hayeselden amendment, amended by McCandless, passed.

In the hospital subsidy item, the $3000 appropriated for the Waimea Hospital was divided so that Waimea should have $2000 and Elele $1000.

Dickey moved that Section 4 of the bill be stricken out, the section providing that in case the appropriations shall exceed the revenues the expenditures for all purposes shall be proportional to the revenues. Motion carried.

Dickey moved the insertion of an item of $8000 for the purchase of a pump for Kapiolani Park. Motion lost.

Paris moved reconsideration of the item appropriating $8000 for the Hilo Hospital, and when that carried moved that the institution be given $12,000. This motion was lost.

Lane moved the insertion of the item appropriating $3000 to pay attorneys for defending the County Act, which had been stricken out by the committee. It was lost, only Woods and Lane voting for it.

The bill then passed second reading. It will be read for the third time today.

A message from the Governor, containing the list of election inspectors, was received at the opening of the afternoon session, but there was only a bare quorum present, and consideration of the message was deferred until all the Senators should be on hand. It will probably be taken up today, under the rules, the Senate having taken an adjournment until 10 a. m.

THE HOUSE.

The House of Representatives spent practically all of its time yesterday in Committee of the Whole on the loan appropriation bill, now on its second reading from the Senate.

The morning session was spent over the second section, that for "General Appropriations for All Islands." Without any ceremony the different delegations went at the items and boosted them one by one, on the definite understanding, however, that cuts would be made in the particular appropriations later on. With this in view, the original $681,000 general appropriation was increased by no less than $128,000, Maui, with Coelho as spokesman, getting the most.

BROKE A PROMISE.

The promise to cut down was not kept at the afternoon session. Hawaii made numerous cuts, but Maui, still with Coelho in the lead, increased her demands instead of diminishing them, with the absurd result that she ran $79,000 over the amount allotted her. Before the House adjourned this was pointed out and Holstein moved that the whole of the Maui items should be reconsidered, failing this that the matter should be turned over to the Maui delegation for adjustment.

No decision was reached and the matter was left over until this morning.

THE DAY'S WORK.

The following was the result of the day's work, item by item:

General appropriations for all islands:

Government building, Hilo, $25,000; increased to $40,000.

Court house and jail, North Kona, $8000.

Road to Honaunau school house, $500.

Road from Milolii-Kai to Kapua, $500. New item.

MORMONS AT LAIE

The following correspondence in the Deseret News (Salt Lake, Utah), tells what the Mormons in Hawaii are doing:

LAIE, Hawaii, April 11.—To those who may be inclined to think that only among American or European peoples are to be found the most advantages for proselyting and the most desirable associations, it would have been of interest to have seen our chapel at Laie well filled with neatly dressed, intelligent Hawaiians, who had gathered on the occasion of our annual conference, commencing April 6. The weather was all that could be desired, for the season of the balmy trade winds had begun, and it is a time when the Saints and Elders from the adjacent islands enjoy a brief sojourn on Laie's peaceful shores.

There were four days of meetings, devoted to preaching the Gospel, bearing testimony and giving reports of the different conferences. The Sunday-school, Mutual Improvement Association and the Primary Association of Laie, the latter joined by the association of Honolulu, took the time of several meetings in the rendition of exercises both pleasing and instructive. One session was occupied in instructing the Priesthood in their duties, and one session was devoted to the interests of the Relief Societies. A continuous outpouring of the Spirit of God was enjoyed in all the meetings. The advice and instructions given by President Woolley were gratefully received by the people, who seemed to hunger after the word of God. Some 240 persons have been added to the fold during the past year. It is being conceded by many of the prominent residents of these islands that the "Mormons" are succeeding admirably, and are doing more for the native people than any other denomination. This because we know we have the Truth, and we go among them in the good old fashioned way—without purse or scrip.

Following are the appointments for the ensuing year: Samuel E. Woolley, president of the Hawaiian Mission and manager of the Laie plantation; O. H. Bybee, Abraham Fernandez and John Smith, Honolulu conference; Lorenzo Taylor, Kauai conference; W. W. Burt, West Maui; E. A. Loug and Walter N. Farr, East Maui; Ira S. Hatch, Hilo; A. J. Bell and J. F. Beliston, North Hawaii; W. J. Sells and E. J. Neff, South Hawaii; D. D. Dibble and P. B. Cowan, Oahu conference. Elders Albert J. Davis and C. C. Smith to labor as special missionaries.

To labor on the plantation in the temporal part of the mission: S. J. Lunt, assistant manager; D. D. Dibble, time keeper; P. B. Cowan, storekeeper; Joseph Christensen, bookkeeper; O. C. Jones, school teacher; Sarah Hatch, assistant school teacher; William B. Davis, mechanic; Retta Grant, music teacher; Sarah Lunt, superintendent of domestic affairs, with Hannah Davis, Nellie Cowan, Sarah Hatch, Mamie Burt, Retta Grant and Emilie Champneys as assistants; Thomas Champneys, clerk of mission.

Elder Edwin C. Dibble and Janie C. Dibble, with their two children, were released to return home.
